

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
MIDDLE DISTRICT OF FLORIDA
ORLANDO DIVISION

GERALD E. REED IV, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No.: 6:19-cv-01751-RBD-LHP

COSTA DEL MAR, INC.,
a Florida corporation,

Defendant.

CLASS COUNSEL’S UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS’ FEES AND EXPENSES

After approximately seven years prosecuting this complex litigation—and having successfully negotiated a settlement affording monetary benefits of $23,900,000 on approximately 365,327 total class member claims (“Settlement”)—Class Counsel respectfully requests an award of attorneys’ fees and expenses of $5,736,000.

The requested relief is reasonable, appropriate, and amply supported by the record and the accompanying evidence, including the declaration of Howard Coker, who is eminently qualified to opine on the subject of attorneys’ fees and expenses in this matter. Mr. Coker’s declaration is attached hereto as Exhibit 1 (“Coker Declaration”). The Settlement in this matter expressly reflects the parties’ arms’-length and separately negotiated agreement to the attorneys’ fees and expenses sought in this motion. This factor alone merits great weight and consideration by the Court in ruling on this motion. Further, the requested award of attorneys' fees and expenses is well within the bounds of a reasonable fee award under the controlling "percentage of the benefit" fee-assessment method. Camden I Condominium Ass'n v. Dunkle, 946 F.2d 768, 774–75 (11th Cir. 1991) ("Camden I").¹ The requested award constitutes 24% of the Settlement Fund, which—despite the exceptional results obtained and the substantial risk inherent in seven years of contingency-fee litigation over novel claims—falls on the low end of the presumptively reasonable range.

The requested award is below the presumptive benchmark of 25 percent. In re Blue Cross Blue Shield Antitrust Litig. MDL 2406, 85 F.4th 1070, 1100 (11th Cir. 2023) ("Courts typically award fees of 20 to 30 percent of the common fund and view the mean of that range—25 percent—as a rough benchmark.") (citations omitted); see also, e.g., Waters v. Int'l Precious Metals Corp., 190 F.3d 1291, 1295–96 (11th Cir. 1999) (affirming $13.3 million attorneys' fee award and $2,400,204 in expenses from a $40 million fund and recognizing the majority of common fund fee awards fall between 20% to 30% of the fund). It is also below the percentage awarded by this Court in prior class action settlements. See Smith v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., No. 3:18-cv-1011, 2021 WL 4295282, at *16 (M.D. Fla. I. Background of the Litigation

This Motion concerns the Reed Action, one of three related class actions addressing Costa’s warranty practices. Class Counsel filed the Reed Action on April 3, 2019, asserting claims for violations of FDUTPA on behalf of a nationwide class (excluding Florida) arising out of Costa’s “nominal fee” repair promise. The extensive effort undertaken to prosecute the Reed Action is detailed in the Declaration of Peter Hargitai in Support of Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement, attached hereto as Exhibit 2 (“Hargitai Declaration”).

In the Reed Action alone, Class Counsel obtained certification of the nationwide class following oral argument on October 22, 2025, defeated a motion to dismiss, filed 12 motions in limine and Daubert motions, briefed and responded to summary judgment, and completed preparations for an imminent trial. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 7). The Reed Action involved extensive written discovery, including multiple rounds of written discovery and conferences regarding the sufficiency of Costa's responses; enforcement of a third-party subpoena requiring Plaintiff to file a separate miscellaneous action in the Western District of Texas, which was transferred to this district and ultimately resulted in an order granting Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Non-Party McGarrah Jessee LP to respond to the subpoena; a Motion for Protective Order regarding Costa's unilaterally scheduled depositions; preparation and defense of the deposition of Plaintiff Gerald E. Reed IV, who traveled from Louisiana to Jacksonville for his deposition; depositions of two Costa witnesses (Terri Hannah and Michelle Crockett); subpoenas duces tecum to four Costa retailers; retention of four expert witnesses in support of class certification; extensive dispositive motion practice (including cross-motions for summary judgment and four cross-motions to exclude expert testimony regarding Wilcox, Moore, Maronick, and Galanti); a successful defense of Costa's Rule 23(f) Petition for Permission to Appeal, which was denied in March 2026; and comprehensive trial preparation, including deposition designations, trial exhibits, pretrial stipulations, jury instructions, and verdict forms.

The case's protracted litigation history speaks to its difficulty and complexity. The length of the case reflects the large number of tasks Class Counsel had to perform at every stage. Timekeepers at Holland & Knight incurred over 3,029 hours in connection with the prosecution of the Reed Action through May 1, 2026, corresponding to $2,031,352.67 in fees and $283,274.82 in expenses. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 26; Coker Decl. ¶ 9).

A. Related Actions

The Reed Action was related to two other putative class actions brought by Class Counsel: (1) Haney v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., Case No. 16-2017-CA-004794-XXXX-MA (Fourth Judicial Circuit of Florida), involving claims for FDUTPA violations and breach of warranty under the MMWA on behalf of Florida consumers; and (2) Smith v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., Case No. 3:18-cv-1011-J-32JRK (M.D. Fla.), involving claims under the MMWA for Costa's charging a "processing fee" for warranty repairs. (See Coker Decl. ¶ 5, n.1 (noting the temporary consolidation enhanced efficiency and reduced duplicative efforts)).

Across the three related actions, Class Counsel reviewed approximately 180,000 documents produced by Costa; deposed or defended 35 fact and expert witness depositions; defeated multiple motions to dismiss; participated in a three-day evidentiary hearing on class certification; argued before Florida's First District Court of Appeal; briefed and obtained certification of multiple classes; fully briefed summary judgment in multiple cases; completed trial preparations; and briefed or responded to nine Daubert motions. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 6). Trial in the Haney Action commenced in January 2026 and proceeded for several days until a mistrial was declared on January 15, 2026.

II. The Significant Benefits to Class Members Under the Settlement

The Settlement provides class members with substantial monetary relief. The $23,900,000 Qualified Settlement Fund represents approximately 80.9% of the total classwide damages without prejudgment interest, as calculated by Plaintiff's expert, Joseph Galanti, without the risks inherent in trial. (Coker Decl.

¶ 35). This outcome is the result of seven years of determined effort, including formulating novel claims against a practice that had never previously been challenged on a class-wide basis, defeating a motion to dismiss, obtaining class certification over Costa's opposition, surviving an interlocutory appeal, navigating the vacatur of a prior settlement by the Eleventh Circuit, briefing cross-motions for summary judgment, conducting extensive Daubert motion practice, and preparing the case for imminent trial. The Settlement eliminates the risks inherent in continued litigation—including the possibility of an adverse verdict or years of post-trial appeals—while delivering meaningful compensation to hundreds of thousands of consumers now. (Coker Decl. ¶ 36). The Settlement provides significant benefits to the Class:

$23.9 Million Qualified Settlement Fund: The Settlement creates a $23,900,000 Qualified Settlement Fund (“QSF”) from which class members can receive direct monetary payments on a pro rata basis for each qualifying repair. Settlement Class Members are eligible for one payment for each repair or replacement charged by Costa for damage caused by accident, normal wear and tear, or misuse, so long as the Settlement Class Member paid more than $11.95 for the repair. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 11). Based on estimates of attorneys' fees and administrative costs, which will be paid from the QSF, Class Counsel expects that each Class Member will receive approximately $48 per unique repair claim from the QSF. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 11).

Costa maintains electronic records (containing emails, phone numbers, and addresses) for Class Members because the Class Members sent their sunglasses to Costa for repair claims, communicated with Costa by email and telephone, and had their sunglasses mailed back to the address on file with Costa. Accordingly, the parties anticipate they will be able to reach a large majority of the Class Members through email or First-Class Mail with the information already maintained in Costa's systems. (Preliminary Approval Motion at 31–32). Based on Costa's records, there are approximately 365,327 repair transactions within the class period. (Doc. 161 at 6).

Payment Options: Settlement Class Members can choose to receive payment via paper check, Venmo, PayPal, or Zelle, with paper check being the default option if a Class Member does not select a payment method and a physical mailing address is available or provided. A second, pro rata distribution will be made to Settlement Class Members who participated in the first distribution within 120 days of the original distribution date under certain conditions. Specifically, a second distribution will be made so long as at least $150,000 remains in the Settlement Fund and the uncashed checks or unclaimed electronic funds remaining 90 days after the Distribution Date are sufficient to cover administrative costs and provide each eligible Class Member with at least $1.00. Following the expiration of sixty days after the second distribution, any remaining funds will be allocated as a cy pres payment to the American Saltwater Guides Association, subject to Court approval. There is no reverter of funds to Costa. (Preliminary Approval Motion at 14).

III. The Requested Award of Attorneys' Fees and Expenses

a. The Court Should Afford Substantial Weight to the Settlement

The Settlement is the product of good faith, extensive, adversarial negotiations between experienced counsel. (Hargitai Decl. ¶¶ 2, 8); (Settlement Agreement, § X) (stating that “[a]fter agreeing to the principal terms set forth in this Settlement Agreement, the Parties’ counsel negotiated the amount of Attorneys’ Fees, Costs, and Expenses”). The Settlement was reached after extensive discovery and following three mediation sessions conducted by mediator Terrence White on October 24, 2023, February 29, 2024, and October 1, 2025, as part of an ongoing mediation that took place during the two months preceding settlement. At all times through the mediation proceedings and settlement discussions, the negotiations were adversarial, non-collusive, and arm’s-length. The parties reached a settlement in principle on April 2, 2026, approximately one month before the commencement of the trial term in the Reed Action. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 8).

The Settlement is entitled to great weight because it resulted from adversarial, arm’s-length negotiations after the resolution of the merits was reached by the parties. Strube v. Am. Equity Inv. Life Ins. Co., 2006 WL 1232816, at *1 (M.D. Fla. May 5, 2006) (Orlando Division) (if the court confirms that the parties’ agreement was conducted at arm’s length after all material terms had been agreed upon, then “great weight should be given to the negotiated fee in considering whether the fee is appropriate”); Wave Lengths Hair Salons of Fla., Inc. v. CBL & Assocs. Props., Inc., No., 2019 WL 13037030, at *7 (M.D. Fla. Apr. 24, 2019) (“A class action settlement should be approved so long as a district court finds that ‘the settlement is fair, adequate and reasonable and is not the product of collusion between the parties.’”) (citation omitted). Thus, as long as the requested fee falls within the range of reasonableness, it should be entitled to deference and approved.

b. The Requested Award of Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses is Reasonable

i. Attorneys’ Fee Awards in the Eleventh Circuit

Attorneys’ fees for class counsel must be based upon a percentage of the benefit obtained for the class. Camden I, 946 F.2d at 774; see Poertner v. Gillette Co., 618 F. App’x 624, 625 n.2 (11th Cir. 2015); Alba Conte, Attorney Fee Awards § 2.7, at 91 n.41 (“The Eleventh . . . Circuit[] repudiated the use of the lodestar method in common-fund cases.”). “[A] common fund is itself the measure of success . . . [and] represents the benchmark on which a reasonable fee will be awarded.” Camden I, 946 F.2d at 774. “There is no hard and fast rule mandating a certain percentage of a common fund which may reasonably be awarded as a fee because the amount of any fee must be determined upon the facts of each case.” Id. However, a fee award of 50% of the benefit is the upper limit, and the majority of fee awards fall between 20 and 30 percent of the fund. Id. at 774–75. Thus, 25 percent is the default “benchmark,” which may be adjusted in accordance with the individual circumstances of each case pursuant to certain factors discussed below. Id.; see also, e.g., Waters, 190 F.3d at 1294.

Although some courts utilize a lodestar calculation to “cross-check” the percentage-of-the-benefit analysis, a lodestar “cross-check” is not required. See In re Home Depot Inc., 931 F.3d 1065, 1091 n.25 (11th Cir. 2019) (“We do not mean to suggest that a cross-check is required. A lodestar cross-check is a time-consuming exercise.”); Stahl v. MasTec, Inc., No. 2008 WL 2267469, at *2 (M.D. Fla. May 20, 2008) (awarding fees in a common fund case without any mention of the lodestar); Bermudez v. CFI Resorts Mgmt., Inc., 576 F. Supp. 3d 1099, 1105 (M.D. Fla. 2020) (same); see also, e.g., SEC v. Davison, No. 2023 WL 2931641, at *3 (M.D. Fla. Mar. 8, 2023), report and recommendation adopted, No. 2023 WL 3995481 (M.D. Fla. June 1, 2023) (“courts in this Circuit regularly award fees based on a percentage of the recovery, without discussing lodestar at all”) (citation omitted).

The Eleventh Circuit has squarely rejected the use of the lodestar method in calculating attorneys’ fee awards in common fund cases and has “mandate[d] the exclusive use of the percentage approach in common fund cases, reasoning that it more closely aligns the interests of client and attorney, and more faithfully adheres to market practice.” Goldberger v. Integrated Res., Inc., 209 F.3d 43, 50 (2d Cir. 2000) (emphasis added); Camden I, 946 F.2d at 773–75. Courts in the Eleventh Circuit have explained that the lodestar approach should not be imposed through the back door via a “cross-check.” See In re Checking Account Overdraft Litig.,

830 F. Supp. 2d 1330, 1362 (S.D. Fla. 2011) (declining to perform lodestar calculation and stating, under Camden I, the “percentage of the fund is the exclusive method for awarding fees in common fund class actions”); see also Junior v. Infinity Ins. Co., 2021 WL 4944307, at *4 (M.D. Fla. Mar. 25, 2021), report and recommendation adopted, 2021 WL 4944311 (M.D. Fla. Apr. 29, 2021) (citing this portion of In re Checking Account Overdraft Litigation favorably).²

Here, utilizing the operative percentage-of-the-benefit analysis, Class Counsel’s requested fee of $5,736,000 constitutes 24% of the $23,900,000 Settlement Fund, which is below the 25% benchmark in the Eleventh Circuit. The “fund” upon which an amount of reasonable attorneys’ fees is based is the entirety of the relief being made available to the class, including the product vouchers, shipping and handling benefits, tax benefits, attorneys’ fees, expenses, incentive awards, and cy pres payments. Waters, 190 F.3d at 1295–96 (affirming $13.3 million attorneys’ fee award and $2,400,204 in expenses from a $40 million fund to pay claims, attorneys’ fees and expenses); Saccoccio v. JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., 297 F.R.D. 683, 695 (S.D. Fla. 2014) (“The attorneys’ fees in a class action can be determined based upon the total fund, not just the actual payout to the class.”). As such, the requested fee constitutes less than 25% of the Settlement Fund, which is presumptively reasonable.

² Although the percentage-of-the-benefit analysis controls, in the interest of full transparency to the Court and the Class, Class Counsel has incurred $2,031,352.67 in attorneys’ fees and $283,274.82 in expenses in connection with the Reed Action, including a proportionate share of fees and expenses incurred in pursuit of the 2020 global settlement that ultimately fell through. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 9, 14).

ii. The factors support the requested fee and expenses award

Furthermore, all of the applicable factors weigh decisively in favor of approval. The requested fee of $5,736,000 constitutes just 24% of the $23,900,000 Settlement Fund—below the 25% benchmark recognized in Camden I and well within the 20–30% range that courts typically award. See Waters, 190 F.3d at 1291 (affirming fee award of 33 1/3%).³ The fee is also reasonable in light of the “individual circumstances” of this case, including: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment by the attorney due to acceptance of the case; (5) the customary fee; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) time limitations imposed by the client or the circumstances; (8) the amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys; (10) the undesirability of the case; (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; and (12) awards in similar cases. Camden I, 946 F.2d at 772, 775, n.3 (citation omitted).

1. Factor 1 (the time and labor required) and Factor 11 (the relationship with the client).

As explained in the Coker Declaration and Hargitai Declaration, the time and labor required to obtain a favorable settlement in the Reed Action was extraordinary. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 13–16; Hargitai Decl. ¶¶ 6–7). Class Counsel prosecuted the Reed Action for seven years before reaching a settlement in principle just one month before trial. During that time, Class Counsel prevailed at every critical juncture: defeating Costa’s motion to dismiss, obtaining certification of a nationwide class following oral argument, and preparing the case for an imminent trial. Class Counsel filed 12 motions in limine and Daubert motions, briefed and responded to summary judgment, enforced a third-party subpoena through a separate action in the Western District of Texas, prepared for and defended depositions, and worked extensively with multiple expert witnesses. Timekeepers at Holland & Knight incurred over 3,029 hours prosecuting this action—time that was expended efficiently and with sound billing judgment despite the intense pressure of a contingency-fee arrangement where no payment was guaranteed. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 13-16, 47(a); Hargitai Decl. ¶¶ 6-8).

³ See also Diaz v. Hillsborough Cty. Hosp. Auth., No. 8:90-CV-120-T-25B, 2000 WL 1682918, at *7 (M.D. Fla. 2000) (30%); In re Home Shopping Network Sec. Litig., Case No. 87-428-T-13(A) (M.D. Fla. 1991) (33%); Morgan v. Pub. Storage, 301 F. Supp. 3d 1237, 1267 (S.D. Fla. 2016) (33%); Allapattah Servs., Inc. v. Exxon Corp., 454 F. Supp. 2d 1185 (S.D. Fla. 2006) (awarding fees of 31 1/3 %); In re: Terazosin Hydrochloride Antitrust Litigation, 99–1317–MDL–Seitz (S.D. Fla. April 19, 2005) (awarding fees of 33 1/3 %); Gutter v. E.I. Dupont De Nemours & Co., 95–2152–Civ–Gold (S.D. Fla. 2003) (33 1/3 %).

Class Counsel reasonably incurred $2,031,352.67 in fees and $283,274.82 in expenses—a substantial investment made entirely at risk with no guarantee of return. Unlike traditional hourly engagements where payment follows contemporaneously with the work performed, Class Counsel bore the entire financial burden of this litigation for nearly eight years without receiving a single dollar in compensation. This investment reflects counsel’s confidence in the merits of the claims and their commitment to achieving justice for hundreds of thousands of consumers. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 30–31, 47(a)).

2. Factor 2 (the difficulty of the questions involved).

The complexity and novelty of the claims asserted in the Reed Action also establish that the requested fee award is reasonable. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 16–19). This case was the first of its kind challenging Costa’s long-running practice of selling its sunglasses with the nominal-fee repair promise. “This is not the type of case with a well-worn blueprint.” (Coker Decl. ¶ 19). Costa’s practices challenged in this lawsuit had been going on for many years across the entire United States yet had not previously been challenged in a class action. (See id.). Class Counsel thus lacked a pre-established game plan or roadmap and had to invest substantial time investigating Costa’s practices, formulating apt legal theories, identifying the types of evidence that would be necessary to prevail, and negating Costa’s defenses for the claims to succeed. The Reed Action was complex, required sophisticated counsel, and presented novel issues that “easily could have come out another way but for Class Counsel’s thorough research, effective advocacy, and skilled presentation.” (Coker Decl. ¶ 17).

The complex legal issues that Class Counsel successfully navigated include: (a) the extraterritorial application of FDUTPA to a nationwide class of non-Florida consumers—an issue that remains contested and would have been subject to further appeal; (b) whether FDUTPA requires a plaintiff to show reliance on or exposure to an alleged deceptive practice; (c) application of a price-premium damages model to measure consumer harm from a deceptive repair promise; (d) management of extraordinarily voluminous discovery, including party and third-party productions and over thirty depositions across the related Costa Lawsuits; and (e) preparation for a complex class-action trial—a proceeding that few class actions ever reach. See Smith, 2021 WL 4295282 at *16; Coker Decl. ¶¶ 17–18.

The extraterritorial application of FDUTPA presented a particularly challenging issue. Plaintiff had to establish that Florida law applied to every class member—each of whom resided outside Florida. While this Court certified the class and found Florida’s choice-of-law rules permit such application, Costa vigorously contested this point, and the issue would have been the subject of further appellate review had the case proceeded to trial. Similarly, the parties remained in genuine disagreement over whether FDUTPA requires exposure to the deceptive practice. (Coker Decl. ¶ 17).

Class Counsel demonstrated remarkable determination by taking this case through pre-trial briefing and preparation—a stage that very few class actions ever reach. Class actions are inherently complex, and the tasks of formulating trial strategies and preparing for trial were unusually difficult given the novel nature of the claims. That Class Counsel was prepared to try this case—and would have done so but for the favorable settlement—reflects the depth of their preparation and commitment to the Class. (Coker Decl. ¶ 20).

3. Factor 3 (the skill required) and Factor 9 (the experience, reputation, and ability of the attorneys).

This case required a high degree of legal skill from start to finish. Costa, a well-resourced corporate defendant, retained McGuireWoods LLP—a highly regarded national law firm with substantial experience defending class actions. Costa’s counsel litigated tenaciously, pursuing every available defense and procedural challenge. See, e.g., Farmer v. Humana Inc., No. 8:21-cv-1478, 2022 WL 22855817, at *5 (M.D. Fla. Dec. 28, 2022) (“Defendants were well-represented, making prosecution of this action more difficult.”); Walco Inv. Inc. v. Thenen, 975 F. Supp. 1468, 1472 (S.D. Fla. 1997) (“Given the quality of defense counsel from prominent national law firms, the Court is not confident that attorneys of lesser aptitude could have achieved similar results.”). Class Counsel met this formidable opposition at every stage with thorough research, comprehensive briefing, and skilled presentation. The filings in this case reflect the most thorough levels of research and preparation commensurate with the high stakes involved. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 16, 21–22; Hargitai Decl. ¶ 13).

4. Factor 4 (the preclusion of other employment by the attorneys due to acceptance of the case).

The resources this case demanded came at significant opportunity cost. Class Counsel invested over 3,029 hours in the Reed Action alone, spread across more than seven years. This time could have been devoted to traditional hourly work that would have been paid promptly and without regard to results. Instead, Class Counsel chose to represent consumers who had no other practical means of obtaining relief, accepting the risk that years of effort might yield no compensation at all. This commitment also precluded Class Counsel from expanding their practice with traditional institutional clients who provide more consistent revenue. The magnitude of this foregone opportunity—and the risk that accompanied it—supports the reasonableness of the requested fee. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 24–25).

5. Factor 5 (customary fee) and Factor 12 (similar awards).

The parties reached a Settlement resulting in $23,900,000 in monetary benefits to the Class, with no reverter. Class Counsel’s requested fee and expenses award of $5,736,000 is exceptionally reasonable when compared to the $23,900,000 Settlement Fund. Waters, 190 F.3d at 1295–96. Despite the considerable risk, time, expense, and skill undertaken for the better part of a decade in this action, the requested fee award of 24% falls on the low end of the 20–30% benchmark. See Camden I, 946 F.2d at 775; Waters, 190 F.3d at 1294; In re Blue Cross Blue Shield, 85 F.4th at 1100. The requested 24% fee is also below the percentages previously awarded by this Court and others within the Eleventh Circuit. See Smith, 2021 WL 4295282, at *16 (awarding 25%); Waters, 190 F.3d at 1291 (awarding 33 1/3%); In re Sunbeam Sec. Litig., 176 F.Supp.2d at 1323 (awarding 25%); Diaz, 2000 WL 1682918 (awarding 30%); Finerman, No. 3:14-cv-01154-TJC-MCR (M.D. Fla. 2018) (awarding 26.5%); In re Rayonier, 2017 WL 4542852 at *3 (awarding 30%); Black, 2011 WL 13257526 (awarding 30%). These awards confirm that the 24% fee sought here falls well within the range typically awarded in similar class actions. (Coker Decl. ¶ 26).

Case law also supports that Class Counsel’s rates fall well within the prevailing market range. See Beale v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., No. 16-2025-CA-2661, 2018 WL 2267295, at *3 (Fla. 4th DCA Mar. 26, 2018) (finding rates from $400/hour to $800/hour reasonable); Sabal Trail Transmission, LLC v. +/- 1.401 Acres of Land in Hamilton Cnty., No. 3:16-cv-278, 2026 WL 967041, at *32 (M.D. Fla. Feb. 2, 2026) (finding rates of “$425.00 to $930.00 for ‘Senior Attorneys’” reasonable); Stoll v. Musculoskeletal Inst., No. 8:20-cv-1798, 2022 WL 16927150, at *2–3 (M.D. Fla. July 27, 2022) (approving rates from $475/hour to $1,300/hour). The rates Class Counsel seek fit comfortably within these ranges.

Class Counsel’s hourly rates further demonstrate the reasonableness of the fee request. The rates charged—ranging from $295 to $875 per hour for attorneys, with specialized appellate work at higher rates—fall well within the prevailing market rates for complex litigation in Jacksonville and the Middle District of Florida. See Sabal Trail, 2026 WL 967041, at *32 (finding rates of $425 to $930 for senior attorneys reasonable); Stoll, 2022 WL 16927150, at *2–3 (approving rates from $475 to $1,300 per hour). Notably, Class Counsel applied current rates only for attorneys who remain employed by Holland & Knight, even though the law would support current rates for all timekeepers given the extraordinary delay in payment. This conservative approach enhances the reasonableness of the fee request. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 27–29).

6. Factor 6 (fixed or contingent fee).

Class Counsel prosecuted this case entirely on contingency. For seven years, counsel invested time, effort, and their own funds without any guarantee of payment. (Coker Decl. ¶ 30). Class Counsel has not yet been paid for work performed throughout the past seven years—an extraordinary delay that can be accounted for by use of Class Counsel’s current rates. (Coker Decl. ¶ 29). This risk was compounded by the prior vacatur of the global settlement by the Eleventh Circuit in 2024, which required Class Counsel to restart the case after years of work and at substantial additional expense. (Coker Decl. ¶ 44). Despite this setback, Class Counsel persevered and achieved an outstanding result for the Class. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 30, 32, 42, 44).

Class Counsel also fronted all litigation costs—including substantial administrative costs for providing notice to a very large class, fees for multiple expert witnesses and consultants, and other third-party expenses—without any guarantee of repayment. These are costs that traditional hourly clients would pay promptly, while, here, Class Counsel bore them for years with no assurance they would ever be reimbursed. The attorneys’ fees awarded should compensate not only for time incurred but also for the substantial financial risk counsel accepted in pursuing this litigation. (Coker Decl. ¶ 31).

7. Factor 10 (the undesirability of the case).

Few attorneys would have taken this case. At its outset, Class Counsel confronted a well-funded corporate defendant prepared to litigate for years. The legal issues were novel and untested, the time required and costs necessary were impossible to predict, and there was no guarantee of any recovery. Prior to Class Counsel’s filing of the Haney Action in 2016, there had been no prior class actions challenging Costa's years-long practice despite its visibility to millions of consumers nationwide. Class Counsel's willingness to take on this first-of-its-kind challenge, with no pre-established roadmap and against a well-resourced adversary, reflects a case that the broader bar had declined to pursue. This factor strongly supports the requested fee. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 40–41).

8. Factor 8 (the amount involved and results obtained).

The results obtained in this case are outstanding by any measure. The Settlement creates a $23,900,000 Qualified Settlement Fund from which class members will receive direct monetary payments on 365,327 claims—without any requirement to submit a claim form. Based on estimates of fees and costs, each class member will receive approximately $48 per repair ticket, with some class members receiving compensation for multiple repairs. (Hargitai Decl. ¶ 11). Plaintiff's expert, Joseph Galanti, opined that total classwide damages without prejudgment interest would have been $29,533,312. The $23,900,000 settlement fund represents approximately 80.9% of the maximum projected damages—an exceptional recovery that eliminates the risks and delays inherent in trial and post-judgment proceedings. (Coker Decl. ¶¶ 34–35).

The Settlement also avoids the risks inherent in trial. Although Class Counsel prepared an excellent case and put the Class in a strong position, experience teaches that victory is never assured, even for the best-prepared claims. Avoiding these risks adds value to the Settlement. (Coker Decl. ¶ 36). In addition, even assuming the class ultimately prevailed, it could do so only after further delays and accumulation of additional attorneys' fees. It is clear that Costa has substantial resources and could endure years of further costly litigation, so avoiding these further delays enhances the value of the Settlement. (Coker Decl. ¶ 37). The Settlement also provides significant non-monetary benefits: the settlement structure ensures that class members will receive automatic payments based on Costa's existing electronic records, without the need to file any claim form; the Settlement includes no reverter of funds to Costa under any circumstances; the Settlement provides a mandatory second distribution if residual amounts exceed a prescribed threshold; and class members have multiple payment options—including Venmo, PayPal, Zelle, and paper check—designed to maximize actual receipt of funds. (Coker Decl. ¶ 38). These structural features substantially increase the effective value of the Settlement to the Class. (Coker Decl. ¶ 38).

A class action was the only economically viable means for these consumers to obtain relief. Individual claims were too small—the average repair cost was less than $75, including freight charges of $9.95—to justify individual litigation. (Coker Decl. ¶ 43). The traditional means for handling such claims would unduly tax the court system, require massive expenditure of public and private resources, and ultimately prove impracticable. Class Counsel bore all risk and cost of prosecuting this litigation on behalf of hundreds of thousands of class members. The Settlement ensures that these consumers receive meaningful compensation in a prompt and efficient manner. (Coker Decl. ¶ 43).

IV. Conclusion

Class Counsel respectfully requests an Order (a) awarding Class Counsel $5,736,000 in attorneys' fees and expenses to be paid from the Qualified Settlement Fund, and (b) granting other relief as the Court deems just.

CERTIFICATE OF CONFERENCE

Plaintiffs' counsel hereby certifies that they conferred with counsel for Costa regarding the relief sought herein, and Costa does not oppose this motion.

Attorneys for Plaintiffs and the Class

MIDDLE DISTRICT OF FLORIDA
ORLANDO DIVISION

GERALD E. REED IV, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No.: 6:19-cv-01751-RBD-LHP

COSTA DEL MAR, INC.,
a Florida corporation,

Defendant.

DECLARATION OF HOWARD C. COKER IN SUPPORT OF CLASS COUNSEL’S MOTION FOR ATTORNEY’S FEES AND COSTS

I, HOWARD C. COKER, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1746, declare as follows:

1. My name is Howard C. Coker. I am the President and founding partner of Coker Law. I make this Declaration in support of Class Counsel’s contemporaneously filed unopposed motion for attorney’s fees and costs pursuant to the settlement in the above-captioned class action.¹

¹ Class Counsel separately retained me to render opinions on their fees in two related lawsuits: Smith v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., No. 16-2025-CA-004472 (Fla. Cir. Ct.) (“Smith”), and Haney v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., 16-2017-CA-004794 (“Haney”). Smith was previously pending in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Florida under case number 3:18-cv-1011 and before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit under the name Smith v. Miorelli, No. 22-10663 (11th Cir.).

I refer to Haney and Smith together with the above-captioned lawsuit as the “Costa Lawsuits.” Plaintiff’s claims in this lawsuit were temporarily consolidated with the claims in the other Costa Lawsuits under Smith. Consequently, my review of the work performed in this action includes review of the records in Smith. Moreover, reviewing records from all three Costa Lawsuits together enhanced my understanding of each case’s procedural history, my recognition of efficiencies Class Counsel gained through their management of all three Costa Lawsuits, and my appreciation of Class Counsel’s skill in managing all three cases.

I. Qualifications & Experience

2. I have been licensed to practice law in Florida since 1972 and achieved Civil Trial Law Certification in 1985. I have extensive experience in handling complex cases, including class actions, and have handled cases similar to the above-captioned action. I have tried more than 350 jury trials and handled thousands of mediated settlements. I served as President of the Florida Bar from 1998 to 1999. My curriculum vitae is attached as Exhibit A.

3. I am familiar with the law governing the reasonableness of attorney's fees to be awarded in class-action lawsuits under federal law in the Eleventh Circuit and Florida state law. I have studied Camden I Condominium Association v. Dunkle, 946 F.2d 768 (11th Cir. 1991), establishing the percentage-of-the-fund approach to determining fees to be awarded from a common fund created for a class, and the factors courts consider in assessing the reasonableness of a percentage award. I am also familiar with Waters v. International Precious Metals Corp., 190 F.3d 1291 (11th Cir. 1999), and In re Blue Cross Blue Shield Antitrust Litig. MDL 2406, 85 F.4th 1070 (11th Cir. 2023), which recognize a presumptive attorneys' fee benchmark of 25% of the settlement fund in common-fund cases. In the course of my practice, I have kept up with developments in the application of the foregoing cases and their progeny.

4. My expert testimony on attorney's fees has been accepted in numerous lawsuits over the years, and I continuously track fee awards throughout Florida generally and in North Florida particularly in connection with my practice and my work as a fee expert.

II. Background of the Costa Lawsuits & Scope of Review

5. I have been asked by Class Counsel to render an opinion as to the reasonableness of Class Counsel's request for attorney's fees and costs in the above-captioned case.

6. In reaching my opinions, I have reviewed the relevant pleadings, motions, orders, billing records, and related materials in the Costa Lawsuits. My review includes but is not limited to the docket sheets in each action (including the docket sheet in the prior federal proceeding in Smith), the operative Complaints, various discovery materials and motion papers, motions for class certification and related papers, motions for summary judgment and related papers, appellate filing in each action,² and draft motions for settlement approval and attorney's fees and costs in each action.

7. Because of the high volume of activity in the Costa Lawsuits, which span nearly a decade and involve multiple cases across two trial courts and two appellate courts, I have conferred extensively with Class Counsel to understand the course of the proceedings and the work performed not reflected on the courts' dockets and in the parties' filings, such as efforts regarding class notice, out-of-court discovery efforts, conferrals and mediations,³ and case investigations. I have also reviewed deposition transcripts as necessary to satisfy myself that taking the deposition was appropriate and meaningfully advanced the parties' claims or defenses, and to assess the reasonableness of the time Class Counsel spent preparing for the depositions. Through my conferrals with Class Counsel, I have gained an understanding of the complex legal issues presented in the lawsuits, the challenges counsel faced at various points throughout the lengthy course of the litigation, and the skill and investment needed to obtain the settlement.

8. I have reviewed Class Counsel's timesheets and costs (Composite Exhibit B), which provide detailed descriptions of counsel's day-to-day activities, the number of hours spent, and the rates each timekeeper charged. I have also reviewed the biographies of the noted timekeepers to assess their experience levels and relevant credentials. I am not aware of any materials relevant to my analysis that have been withheld, nor has Class Counsel refused to provide any materials I have requested.

9. Class Counsel reasonably incurred a total of $2,031,352.67 in fees and $283,274.82 in expenses attributable to the Reed Action. These totals include $1,388,262.00 in fees incurred on this matter, $211,747.73 in costs incurred on this matter, plus a proportionate, one-third share of fees ($643,090.67) and costs ($71,527.09) expended in pursuit of the prior global settlement.

III. Reasonableness of Class Counsel's Requested Attorney's Fees & Costs

10. Consistent with applicable law, in assessing the reasonableness of Class Counsel's requested fees and costs, I first consider the percentage of the settlement fund. "The majority of common fund fee awards fall between 20% to 30% of the fund," id., and courts "view the median of this 20% to 30% range, i.e., 25%, as a 'bench mark' percentage fee award which may be adjusted in accordance with the individual circumstances of each case," id. at 775; see also In re Blue Cross Blue Shield, 85 F.4th at 1100 ("Courts typically award fees of 20 to 30 percent of the common fund and view the mean of that range—25 percent—as a rough benchmark.").

11. While 25% of the settlement fund serves as a presumptively reasonable benchmark, Camden I makes clear that this "may be adjusted in accordance with the individual circumstances of each case." Camden I, 946 F.2d at 775. In assessing whether a particular percentage is reasonable in context, courts may consider a number of factors, including: (1) the time and labor required; (2) the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved; (3) the skill required to perform the legal services properly; (4) the preclusion of other employment; (5) the customary fee and similar awards in comparable cases; (6) whether the fee is fixed or contingent; (7) time limitations imposed by the client or circumstances; (8) the amount involved and the results obtained; (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of counsel; (10) the undesirability of the case; (11) the nature and length of the professional relationship with the client; (12) fee awards in similar cases; (13) the time required; (14) objections to the settlement; (15) non-monetary benefits; and (16) the economics of prosecuting a class action. Id. at 772 n. 3, 775. In addition, Camden I identified other pertinent factors: “the time required to reach a settlement, whether there are any substantial objections by class members or other parties to the settlement terms or the fees requested by counsel, any non-monetary benefits conferred upon the class by the settlement, and the economics involved in prosecuting a class action.” Id. at 775.

12. Class Counsel’s requested fee of $5,736,000 constitutes 24% of the $23,900,000 Settlement Fund, which is below the 25% benchmark. In a common-fund case, “monetary results achieved predominate over all other criteria.” Id. at 774. Here, the monetary results are outstanding. It is my opinion that the requested fee is exceedingly reasonable and fair. The basis for my opinion is set forth in the numbered paragraphs below, organized by the Johnson factors and the additional factors identified in Camden I.

A. Hours Expended and Efficiency of the Litigation (Factors 1, 11, 13)

13. Although the percentage-of-the-benefit analysis is the controlling methodology in this Circuit, and a lodestar calculation is neither required nor appropriate as the primary basis for the fee award, I have nevertheless reviewed Class Counsel’s billing records to satisfy myself that the time and labor required to achieve the Settlement was substantial, that the hours expended were reasonable, and that the fee award sought is commensurate with the effort required to prosecute this complex litigation.

14. In connection with the Reed Action specifically, timekeepers at Holland & Knight incurred over 3,029 hours through May 1, 2026. When a proportionate share (one-third) of the time spent pursuing the 2020 global settlement—which ultimately fell through due to a jurisdictional issue identified by the Eleventh Circuit—is allocated to the Reed Action, Class Counsel incurred $2,031,352.67 in attorneys' fees and $283,274.82 in expenses in this matter. The one-third allocation is reasonable because, while the lawsuits were consolidated in Smith, the claims were inextricably intertwined, and the work performed in connection with the global settlement equally advanced the resolution of all three lawsuits.

15. The billing records presented to me by Class Counsel are highly informative and contain sufficient information to describe the tasks performed and justify the time billed.

16. Based on my experience conducting complex civil litigation for more than 50 years, including many years as the lead attorney supervising large teams, Class Counsel conducted this case in a very efficient manner. I did not find instances in which attorneys worked on tasks that were not appropriate to their experience level at the time, and I did not find instances in which multiple attorneys needlessly spent time on the same task. Moreover, I believe the lead partners in the case made wise judgments about when to transition work to new team members and when to rely on “veterans” with first-hand knowledge about the history of the case. It also appears to me that new team members quickly digested the case’s long, complex factual and procedural history and began to make meaningful contributions very quickly without long “ramp up” periods.

B. Novelty and Difficulty of the Questions Involved (Factor 2)

17. Through my review of the case filings and conferrals with Class Counsel, I have learned of the numerous complex and unsettled issues that have been raised at various stages of this case. I note that while Class Counsel skillfully presented many of these issues as clear cut, straightforward, and capable of only one sound outcome, they are, in fact, highly complex and easily could have come out another way but for Class Counsel’s thorough research, effective advocacy, and skilled presentation. To their credit, Costa’s counsel, who are skilled and experienced attorneys in their own right, believed these issues were susceptible to good-faith disagreement and identified numerous authorities that plausibly supported Costa’s contrary positions.

18. The complex issues that were critical to this litigation and justified substantial time to properly address include:

- a. how to define separate classes and claims to obtain ideal forums, diversify risks, address jurisdictional issues, and obtain other strategic advantages;

- b. a named plaintiff's ability to satisfy the notice requirement for a claim under the Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act ("MMWA"), 15 U.S.C. § 2301, on behalf of a class;
- c. management of extraordinarily voluminous discovery, including both party and third-party productions and more than thirty depositions;
- d. whether a plaintiff must show reliance on and/or exposure to an alleged deceptive practice under the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act ("FDUTPA"), § 501.201, Fla. Stat.;
- e. application of a price-premium model to measure the damages flowing from a FDUTPA violation based on a deceptive repair promise;
- f. how to satisfy statutory and constitutional notice requirements for a class action;
- g. preparation for a rapidly impending trial;
- h. filing twelve motions in limine and Daubert motions, and
- i. negotiation of settlements covering two nationwide classes and one statewide class asserting related but distinct theories under FDUTPA.

19. Importantly, this case was the first of its kind challenging Costa's long-running practice of selling its sunglasses with the nominal-fee repair promise. This is not the type of case with a well-worn blueprint. My understanding is that the allegedly deceptive conduct at issue in this case had not previously been challenged in a class action.

20. In addition, Class Counsel showed remarkable skill and determination in taking this case all the way through pre-trial briefing and preparation. Very few class actions make it to trial, and class actions are inherently unique and flexible, so I believe the tasks of formulating trial strategies and preparing the case for trial were novel and difficult.

C. Skill Required and Experience of Counsel (Factors 3, 9)

21. The Litigation was lengthy and required substantial expertise and resources.

22. My review of the case materials indicates that this case was litigated in an extremely rigorous and diligent manner. The filings I reviewed reflected the most thorough levels of research and preparation, commensurate with the lawsuit's high stakes. Corners were not cut, and the relevant issues were comprehensively addressed on both sides. This level of work requires relatively more time even of the most qualified counsel.

23. I am personally familiar with the primary attorneys who handled this lawsuit for Plaintiff and with their reputations in the legal community. I know them to be attorneys of the highest skill, competence, and integrity.

D. Preclusion of Other Employment (Factor 4)

24. This lawsuit required a huge investment of time to litigate—over 3,000 hours in the Reed Action alone, with thousands of additional hours across the Costa Litigation, all spread across more than seven years. Based on my experience managing a law practice and arranging contingency fees, the impact of this investment of time on Class Counsel's ability to pursue other work is twofold. First, Class Counsel lost the ability to perform an equivalent amount of paid work consistent with counsel's traditional hourly billing practice. Notably, this type of work is paid roughly contemporaneously and independent of the results obtained, whereas Class Counsel has not received compensation in this case yet and faced serious risks of nonpayment or underpayment depending on the results obtained in the lawsuit.

25. Second, this matter precluded Class Counsel from concentrating on expanding their existing practice with more traditional existing and prospective clients. Whereas Class Counsel's traditional institutional clients provide consistent sources of revenue, the representation of Plaintiff in this action is unlikely to continue or produce additional returns in future work.

26. This factor thus supports the reasonableness of Class Counsel's request.

E. Customary Fee and Hourly Rates (Factors 5, 12)

26. Class Counsel's requested fee of 24% of the Settlement Fund is below the 25% "bench mark" recognized in Camden I, 946 F.2d at 775, Waters, 190 F.3d at 1294, and In re Blue Cross Blue Shield, 85 F.4th at 1100. It is also "well within" "[t]he majority of common fund fee awards [that] fall between 20% to 30% of the fund." Camden I, 946 F.2d at 774. The requested fee is also below the percentages previously awarded by this Court and others within the Eleventh Circuit. See Smith

v. Costa Del Mar, Inc., No. 3:18-cv-1011, 2021 WL 4295282, at *16 (M.D. Fla. Sept. 21, 2021), vacated on other grounds sub nom. Smith v. Miorelli, 93 F.4th 1206 (11th Cir. 2024) (awarding 25%); Waters v. Int'l Precious Metals Corp., 190 F.3d 1291 (11th Cir. 1999) (awarding 33 1/3%); In re Sunbeam Sec. Litig., 176 F.Supp.2d 1323 (S.D. Fla. 2001) (awarding 25%); Diaz v. Hillsborough County Hosp. Auth., 2000 WL 1682918 (M.D. Fla. Aug. 7, 2000) (awarding 30%); Finerman v. Marriott Ownership Resorts, Inc., Case No. 3:14-cv-01154-TJC-MCR (26.5%); In re Rayonier Inc. Securities Litigation, Case No. 3:14-cv-01395-TJC-JBT (30%); Black v. Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., 2011 WL 13257526 (30%). The attorneys' fees sought in this case are well within the range of attorneys' fees typically awarded in similar class actions.

27. Although not required under the percentage-of-the-benefit methodology, I have also assessed Class Counsel's hourly rates for transparency. From my review of the billing records, the rates sought for the primary counsel in this matter ranged from $295/hour to $675/hour for associates with up to 15 years of experience, and $675/hour to $875/hour for partners with up to 30 years of experience.⁴ Class Counsel also utilized support professionals, such as paralegals and e-discovery specialists, who billed at rates of $215 per hour up to $475 per hour for the most specialized work.

28. In my opinion, these rates are within the “market rate” for Jacksonville. I am aware of fee awards in North Florida ranging from $900/hour to $1,250/hour, which exceed the rates charged by the vast majority of the senior partners who worked on this matter. I am also aware from conferral with Class Counsel that the rates discussed herein are standard rates routinely charged to and paid by clients for matters in Jacksonville, or, for attorneys whose rates have not been made current, were the standard rates charged to and paid by clients at the times the services were rendered.

29. Importantly, Class Counsel have elected to apply current rates only for attorneys who remain employed by Holland & Knight at the time of this declaration even though an across-the-board use of current rates (or, alternatively, application of a rate of interest) would be justified. See, e.g., Perdue v. Kenny A., 559 U.S. 542, 556 (2010); Missouri v. Jenkins ex rel. Agyei, 491 U.S. 274, 282–83 (1989); Gray ex rel. Alexander v. Bostic, 613 F.3d 1035, 1044–45 (11th Cir. 2010); Norman v. Hous. Auth. of Montgomery, 836 F.2d 1292, 1302 (11th Cir. 1988). Class Counsel has not yet been paid for work performed throughout the past seven years—an extraordinary delay that can be accounted for by use of Class Counsel’s current rates. In this way, Class Counsel are seeking lower rates than they could reasonably seek under applicable law, which, in my opinion, enhances the reasonableness of the fee request.

F. Contingent Fee and Economics of the Class Action (Factors 6, 16)

30. Class Counsel prosecuted this action completely on a contingency-fee basis. The Litigation has been ongoing for nearly eight years, and Class Counsel has not been paid any attorneys' fees or reimbursed for any expenses.

31. This matter imposed substantial burdens on Class Counsel's time, lengthy delays in payment, and substantial risks of nonpayment or underpayment. Class Counsel also had to front all litigation costs that would ordinarily be paid or promptly reimbursed by a traditional client. These include substantial administrative costs for providing notice to a very large class, fees incurred in connection with four expert witnesses, and other third-party expenses that Class Counsel paid without any guarantee of repayment and no accounting for interest.

32. The contingent nature of the fee and the economics of prosecuting a complex class action over nearly eight years strongly support the reasonableness of a 24% fee award, which is below the presumptive benchmark.

G. Amount Involved, Results Obtained, and Non-Monetary Benefits (Factors 8, 15)

33. Camden I instructs that "[i]n this context, monetary results achieved predominate over all other criteria." 946 F.2d at 774.

34. The settlement provides the Class with substantial monetary benefits. The Settlement creates a $23,900,000 Qualified Settlement Fund from which class members will receive direct monetary payments on a pro rata basis, without any requirement to submit a claim form. Based on estimates of attorneys' fees and administrative costs, Class Counsel expects that each Class Member will receive approximately $48 per repair ticket from the QSF, and a given class member may receive compensation for multiple repairs.

35. This substantial recovery is an excellent benefit to the settlement class, especially in light of the significant risks posed by continued litigation. Plaintiff's expert, Joseph Galanti, opined that the total class-wide damages in this case without prejudgment interest would have been $29,533,312. The $23,900,000 settlement fund—representing approximately 80.9% of the maximum total projected damages—is an outstanding result achieved without the risks and delays inherent in trial and post-judgment proceedings.

36. Although, in my opinion, Class Counsel prepared an excellent case and put the class in a strong position to prevail at trial and in any post-judgment proceedings, experience teaches that victory is not assured even for the best-prepared claims. Avoiding these risks adds value to the Settlement.

37. In addition, even assuming the class ultimately prevailed, it could do so only after further delays and accumulation of additional attorneys' fees. It is clear that Costa has substantial resources and could endure years of further costly litigation, so avoiding these further delays enhances the value of the Settlement.

38. The Settlement also provides significant non-monetary benefits to the Class. The settlement structure ensures that class members will receive automatic payments based on Costa's existing electronic records, without the need to file any claim form. The Settlement includes no reverter of funds to Costa under any circumstances and provides a mandatory second distribution if residual amounts exceed the prescribed threshold. Class members have multiple payment options—including Venmo, PayPal, Zelle, and paper check—designed to maximize actual receipt of funds. These structural features substantially increase the effective value of the Settlement to the Class.

39. Costa changed a decades-long modus operandi Class Counsel challenged as unfair and deceptive. This lawsuit was therefore highly consequential, involved substantial sums of money, and imposed heavy obligations on Class Counsel to handle the case properly for the benefit of consumers nationwide.

H. Undesirability of the Case (Factor 10)

40. This Litigation was lengthy, difficult, and expensive, with no periodic payments or guaranteed return. Class Counsel took on a corporate defendant with vast resources necessary to withstand a lengthy legal battle—and indeed, Costa vigorously contested this case for over seven years. At its inception, it was difficult, if not impossible, to know what results would be obtained, the amount of time that would be involved, the costs necessary to pursue the case, or the time necessary to obtain a successful resolution.

41. Prior to Class Counsel's filing of the Haney Action in 2016, no attorney had challenged Costa's decades-long practice of selling its sunglasses with a nominal-fee repair promise, despite the practice being visible to millions of consumers nationwide. Class Counsel's willingness to take on this first-of-its-kind challenge, with no pre-established roadmap and against a well-resourced adversary, reflects a case that the broader bar had declined to pursue.

I. Time Required to Reach Settlement

42. Camden I further directs courts to consider “the time required to reach a settlement.” 946 F.2d at 775. The settlement was reached only after nearly eight years of litigation, multiple failed settlement attempts (including a prior settlement that was vacated by the Eleventh Circuit in 2024), three mediation sessions, ongoing mediation efforts in January and February 2026, and exhaustive discovery and trial preparation. The extraordinary length of time required to achieve this settlement—and the fact that Class Counsel persevered through the vacatur of the prior settlement and began again rather than abandoning the class—further supports the reasonableness of the requested fee.

J. Economics of Prosecuting a Class Action

43. Finally, Camden I directs courts to consider “the economics involved in prosecuting a class action.” 946 F.2d at 775. The individual claims of class members in this case were relatively small—the average repair cost was less than $75, including freight charges of $9.95—making a class action the only economically viable means for class members to obtain relief. The traditional means for handling claims like those at issue here would unduly tax the court system, require a massive expenditure of public and private resources, and, given the relatively small value of the claims of individual Class Members, would be impracticable. Class Counsel bore all of the risk and cost of prosecuting this litigation on behalf of nearly 500,000 class members, with no guarantee of compensation. The economics of this class action strongly support the reasonableness of the 24% fee.

K. Contingency Risk

44. Class Counsel also faced a significant contingency risk since they would not be paid for their work in this matter without obtaining a fair settlement or prevailing at trial. This risk was compounded by the prior vacatur of the global settlement by the Eleventh Circuit in 2024, which required Class Counsel to restart the case after years of work and at substantial additional expense. Despite this setback, Class Counsel persevered and achieved an outstanding result for the Class.

45. The contingency risk factor further justifies the 24% fee requested, which is below the 25% presumptive benchmark and far below the 30% that courts routinely award, notwithstanding the extraordinary contingency risk.

IV. Conclusion

46. Based on the foregoing, it is my opinion that the attorney's fees requested by Class Counsel in this lawsuit are reasonable and fair. Specifically, I opine as follows:

- a. Class Counsel reasonably incurred over 3,000 hours in the Reed Action alone, and $2,031,352.67 in fees and $283,274.82 in expenses attributable to the Reed Action (including a proportionate share of time expended in pursuit of the global settlement that ultimately fell through). These hours were expended efficiently and reflect sound billing judgment.
- b. The requested fee of $5,736,000, constituting 24% of the $23,900,000 Settlement Fund, is below the 25% benchmark recognized in Camden I, 946 F.2d at 774–75, and is reasonable and fair in light of the Johnson factors and the additional factors identified in Camden I.

I declare that I have read the foregoing declaration and that the facts stated in it are true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
